Public transport has never been so good, say officials

View reporter Harry Walton puts it to the test

■ CHRIS Hook and View reporter Harry Walton prepare to set off from County Hall

COUNTY officials today (Thursday, October 3rd) claimed that South and West Dorset residents have never had such a good transport system.

Transport initiatives have doubled in the last ten years with improvements in six key areas – cars, park and ride, buses, trains, cyclists and pedestrians.

But not everyone is convinced and fears have been raised about potential cuts to rural bus subsidies.

To test how far transport facilities have advanced over the last decade, the View ran a test on bus, rail, car and bicycle journeys in the Weymouth and Dorchester area in tandem with county transport experts, including business travel adviser Chris Hook.

A county campaign to encourage greater public transport use and fewer car journeys has been backed up by millions being spent on transport improvements, 30 miles of traffic free cycle routes, town centre cycle racks, real time bus stop information and car park guidance.

And never has the need for an efficient transport system been greater after it was found that just one large Weymouth firm generated 60,000 journeys through staff or deliveries in a single year.

Huge benefits have come from the £87million Weymouth relief road which has slashed journey times between the two towns while the £4.8million Weymouth real time information system - despite some hiccups - is providing passengers with up to date details on when their next bus is due.

But there have also been complaints about reduced bus services in some areas, such as Southill, hitting efforts to encourage public transport use which are backed by surveys showing buses are only a few minutes slower than cars for journeys to and from Dorchester and Weymouth.

To test the transport system I left home in Weymouth on a Wednesday morning at 8.30am and 13 minutes later reached the Stadium roundabout by Dorchester Football Club.

But it then took another 30 minutes to get into the park and ride, pay £1 for a ticket, catch a bus and

MARCUS Dilling, 37, was born in Taunton and educated at Holyrood School in Chard.

He trained as a butcher and became a Master Butcher, now working in Weymouth where he moved to in 2000.

His main hobbies and interests include mechanics and cooking. He claims to be able to fix anything that's broken and cook anything that can burn!

Marcus' favourite is baking cakes, especially passion fruit cakes which he says are delicious.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

● WHY do you live in Weymouth?
My mother's side of the family live here. By the time I was 25 I was looking to come here for work and I was lucky enough to find it.

● WHERE do you go for your holidays?
Legoland and theme parks mostly, sometimes to Italy and especially to Rome. That is my favourite city because it is untouched since Roman times.

● WHAT is your favourite time of the year?
Summer because it is warm and everyone seems to be happier in the sunshine.

● WHAT is your favourite film?
"The Shawshank Redemption" - it is a very exciting story about a man being jailed and the incredible sequence of events which followed. I also like "The Green Mile".

● WHAT is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?
Having children. It really scares to me think of not being able to watch them grow up because I love both of my children.

● IF you could live your life again what would you be?
I don't think I would change anything. I have gone through some things and I have come out of it a better person and I really would not want to change that.

● WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?
I would invite Julius Caesar because I love Roman history and the Egyptian boy pharaoh Tutankhamun because I want to ask him how they really made the pyramids. My third choice would be model and television presenter Kelly Brook because she is gorgeous.

● WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?
I would buy all my family a house. I would also probably go back to college to do a business course in retail to open my own butcher's shop. I would not give up work, God no!

● WHAT do you hope the future holds?
I just hope a new political party can be formed to really do something for the people of this country because the ones we've got at the moment have no idea how to run the country for the people who live in it.

Fish return to river thanks to new pass

by Harry Walton
hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

WEYMOUTH'S River Wey is now open for sea trout and salmon migration every day for the first time in a century.

A new fish pass has been created at Westham Bridge which means that fish can now pass from Weymouth Harbour in to the River Wey.

Migration has been made possible after work was completed to allow one of the flood flaps to remain open for a short period either side of low tide, giving sea trout and salmon an opportunity to return to the river.

Roger Genge of the Environment Agency said specialist fisheries consultancy Fishtek Consulting had done topographic surveys, river and tide calculations, including a flood risk assessment, to come up with the right design.

This had to take into account flood risk concerns to properties in the Commercial Road area, agency and council concerns about increased water levels at a nearby restaurant and RSPB concerns about salt water getting into Radipole Lake.

Mr Genge said: "The report also had to calculate the size of the "spring retarder" that was the recommended preferred option to hold the flood flap open.

"The retarder holds the flap open at 300mm for a short period either side of the rising and falling tides and closes when equilibrium water pressure is reached. It cost £5,000 to make the retarder and £5,000 to install it.

"On the very first day two large mullet were observed gracefully passing up through the flap and into the lake. Mullet can use fresh and salt water environments.

"The target species are sea trout and, hopefully, salmon. Sea trout have been observed trying to get into the river system – and failing – since early June.

"We would expect to see pairs of sea trout entering the system from July to the end of October each year. In a dry year like this year it's virtually impossible for them to get into the system without the fish pass. They then return to sea in late December.

Monitoring is normally carried out by installing underwater cameras, but there is no money to do this and Mr Genge plans to do it visually by making random visits to the bridge for an hour or so. Anyone interested in helping can contact him at roger.genge@environmentagency.gov.uk.

Mr Genge said: "Fortunately enough sea trout have been getting into the system to keep the desire to spawn in the river alive. Also river brown trout and sea trout are the same species.

"Genetically 90 percent of river brown trout fish fry stay in the river but importantly 10 percent go to sea, providing the desire to return. With sea trout 90 percent of their fry return to sea while the other 10 percent stay in the river system. Fish also make mistakes and the hope is that sooner or later a pair of salmon will make that mistake and we will see a return of them.

"There are lots of regulations, byelaw protecting fish species spawning periods. This is a particular problem for me at the moment as in Bridport and Weymouth there is illegal fishing being carried out, removing fish by netting, fishing for them outside of the correct season and also a method of "foul hooking" where the fish are caught by jerking a treble hook device into the side or tail of the fish.

"The Salmon and Freshwater Fisheries Act and the new Marine Act are the pieces of legislation that help to protect the fish."

Cracking down on street drinking

A CAMPAIGN to stop sales of super-strength beer and cider in shops is underway in Weymouth.

The Reducing the Strength campaign has already seen seven shops voluntarily sign up since the scheme was first introduced in September.

The initiative is dedicated to tackling problems that surround street drinking in Weymouth which has an impact on crime and anti-social behaviour.

It looks to limit the ability of street drinkers to buy super-strength beer and ciders.

Super-strength includes any beer and ciders with an alcohol volume of more than 6.5 per cent that is sold cheaply. It does not include premium products.

It has been modelled on the successful campaign of the same name which was first introduced in Ipswich in 2011.

The campaign is a joint project between Weymouth and Portland council, Dorset Police, Public Health Dorset and Dorset County Council's trading standards service.

It is initially being run across Weymouth town centre and Abbotsbury Road. Shops which have signed up so far include Bon Bon, Mace, Derby Stores, Eats & Drinks, Lennox Street Store, Lodmoor Hill Post Office and Beals Newsagent.

The aim is to sign up all supermarkets, off-licences and shops that sell alcohol in Weymouth to the scheme.

Weymouth and Portland community safety spokesman Councillor Geoff Petherick said: "Street drinking and the anti-social behaviour that surrounds it is an issue we want to tackle in Weymouth. Cheap super-strength alcoholic drinks have a huge negative impact on both the consumer and the wider community.

"We want to deal with the problem at the source by encouraging licensees to voluntarily remove all super strength beer and cider from their premises."

Statistics show that there were 385 incidents of alcohol-related anti-social behaviour between July 2012 and July 2013 within the town centre.

Dorchester Road's Beals Newsagent owner Tim Beals said: "When we sold super-strength ciders we would often have problems with some of the customers who purchased that sort of drink. They would often loiter outside and intimidate staff and other customers.

"Since we stopped selling it our client base has improved and my staff feel a lot safer."

The initiative is part of a wider scheme to address issues associated with street drinking.

The second part of this approach involves working with local drug and alcohol agencies to address the individual needs of street drinkers to ensure that they receive the appropriate treatment and support.

Any shops or off-licences in the Abbotsbury Road or Weymouth town centre area interested in signing up to the scheme or which would like more information canphone 01305 226863.

Putting public transport to the test ride it to County Hall, a journey some passengers felt they might walk or cycle next time.

However, money talks and figures show commuters from Weymouth to Dorchester will pay £720 annually for a town centre car park place but only about £120 if they use park and ride, a saving of £600, while Dorchester commuters to Weymouth will pay £535 for town centre parking but only £200 for park and ride, a saving of £335 over the same period.

Chris and I rode electric bikes from County Hall to Dorchester South railway station, caught a train and ten minutes later were in Weymouth. We then rode round various cycle routes including Radipole Lake, Granby Way, The Marsh and Radipole Park Drive before I caught a No 10 bus back to County Hall in 27 minutes. Chris cycled back and was only a few minutes slower than the bus.

This trial of potential commuter routes and how different options are available to suit different lifestyles showed just how vital such facilities are for 800 plus employees from Weymouth who comprise 40 percent of the 2,000 workforce at County Hall.

However, the future of bus services is still under debate with Dorset County Council saying it is revamping subsidized bus services in 2014 in a bid to deliver better value for money.

The new arrangements include withdrawing rural services that cost the authority over £5 per passenger and urban services with subsidies over £3 per person.

County Cabinet Environment spokesman Hilary Cox said: "Following a recent consultation the Cabinet will receive a report that summarises the content of responses, supported by petitions, letters from councillors and organisations asking for certain routes to be retained."

But Weymouth and Portland transport spokesman Councillor Christine James repeated bus service concerns and said: "We do have the makings of a good transport system now, but unless good bus services are an integral part of that system then we still have a long way to go.

"I think it is excellent that we have done so much for cycling and I think the relief road has really improved communications.

"Park and ride has to be encouraged and we perhaps need to extend its hours. Maybe the county council could help with that."

Hilary Cox was at pains to underline the "considerable investment" which had been made in Weymouth's transport network.

She said: "It has really widened the range of travel options for people getting to work, school or for leisure.

"The area now has a fantastic network of cycle routes and excellent public transport links, helping to support economic growth, cut congestion and reduce air pollution from carbon emissions."

Whatever the future holds, the current new transport system tries to be all things to all men – and women – with cost a clear factor to consider.

Anyone wishing to match the transport system to their individual needs can get help and advice on dorsetforyou.com/traveldorset.

Care staff trek for charity

AMI Vine, Nadine Hayward and Kala Jordan

STAFF from a Dorset care home have completed a sponsored walk to raise money for an Alzheimer's charity.

Last month three members of Altogether Care's Verwood Care at Home Team took part in the Alzheimer's Society's 26 mile trek from Stonehenge to Avebury.

Ami Vine, Nadine Hayward and Kala Jordan raised £575 through sponsorship money for the cause which, working in the care sector, effects many of their clients in their everyday lives.

Altogether Care's specialist Dementia care homes, Sherborne House, based in Yeovil, and Cheverels in Maiden Newton both offer high dependency care for those who need it.

The staff at Cheverels and Sherborne house believe dementia sufferers who are well supported by a professional team who enthusiastically give them their time and energy are more likely to lead fulfilling lives.

Altogether Care also offers flexible care at home support throughout Verwood, Sturminster Newton, Bournemouth, Weymouth, Beaminster, Swanage and Wareham. From a little as one hour a day, even if it's just to see a friendly face, Altogether Care offer the services to match your care needs.

Concern grows for missing sailor

POLICE say they are becoming "increasingly concerned" for the welfare of a missing 61-year-old sailor from Weymouth.

Geoffrey Cole, from the Greenhill area of Weymouth, was last seen at Weymouth Bay in the sailing boat, Palamina, at around 7am on Saturday, September 21st.

Officers add that Mr Cole planned to sail across the water to Swanage to meet friends, a journey he has done numerous times.

He left his home address where he lives with his wife at around 6am that day, but nobody has heard from him since.

by Harry Walton
hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

Police say that around 6.30am on Monday, September 23rd, his boat was located by French coastguards washed ashore in the area of Griz Nez near Calais and Boulogne.

Inspector Bob Jacobs, of Dorset Police, said: "We are growing increasingly concerned for Geoffrey and are anxious to establish his whereabouts.

"His family are desperate for him to return to them safe and well.

"I am appealing for anyone with any information about Geoffrey's whereabouts to get in touch at the earliest opportunity."

Mr Cole is a member of Castle Cove Sailing Club and is an experienced sailor.

Anyone with any information should call Dorset Police on 101, quoting incident number 23:159.

Can you remember a seafront bakery?

POLICE need people with knowledge of 1970s Weymouth to come forward and help them with their investigations about an allegation of historic sexual assault.

Officers say they need help in identifying the site of a former bakery and a witness who may have important information that could help them.

Detective Constable Celia White of Avon and Somerset Police said that the victim reported the offences, which occurred in the 1970s, to them last year and since then inquiries had been conducted into the incident.

She added: "As part of the investigation we are appealing for help identifying a bakery which was on the seafront at that time.

"It was an old red brick building with big doors. Delivery lorries used to reverse up to the shop which made cakes, doughnuts and other products.

"I would like to speak to anyone who remembers this old bakery or can help me locate a big, bald American man who used to work there.

"We believe he may be an important witness that could assist our investigation but I want to stress he was not involved in any offences.

"I know this was a long time ago but I'm hoping there is someone in Weymouth who remembers something which might help me."

Police would also like to hear from anyone with photos of the bakery.

Anyone who can help should contact DC Celia White from Avon and Somerset Police on 101.

Wendy retires running shoes after completing Reykjavik marathon

A COMMITTED and determined Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT) member has completed the challenge of a lifetime in the gruelling Islandbank Reykjavik Marathon and has donated more than £300 for wildlife in Dorset.

Wendy Bainbridge from Osmington, near Weymouth, went all the way in August and ran 26 miles in harsh Icelandic conditions.

She has run 16 marathons and, before hanging up her running shoes to run half marathons, she wanted to do something in memory of a friend who passed away recently.

Raising money for DWT seemed appropriate as her friend was an avid supporter of DWT's important conservation work in Dorset, as is Wendy.

The race took place along the exposed coastline of Reykjavik, giving runners a spectacular view of the Icelandic coastal wildlife, including puffins and ravens.

■ WENDY Bainbridge with her medal and running t-shirt

Despite an injury that forced Wendy to take five weeks off training, she completed the marathon in five hours 50 minutes.

Wendy said: "Even though it was cold and exposed, there was a certain beauty in the rawness of the coastline and the wildlife was quite stunning.

"As I ran I thought about the trust and my friend. It felt very appropriate."

Alastair Cook, Director of Fundraising and Marketing for DWT, said: "We consider it an honour that Wendy chose to raise money for Dorset Wildlife Trust while completing this difficult challenge. It is so inspiring to see members and supporters completing these challenges and we hope that Wendy's story will inspire more people to follow in her footsteps."

Anyone who wants to support Wendy still has time to donate online. Those interested should visit her fundraising page for more information: www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/wendy-bainbridge-runs-iceland.

Party to save festivals

TWO children's Christmas parties are being held in Weymouth with all profits going towards helping to try and save firework displays and a kite festival threatened by council cuts.

Organiser Michael McManus is tackling both parties with volunteer help.

He told the View: "They will be held on November 30th and December 1st at the new fire station on Radipole Lane and all the profits will go to help save the fireworks and kite festival.

"We have 100 children at each party with Santa, elves Fireman Sam, Peppa Pig and Hello Kitty as well as games, a bouncy castle for the young ones and a disco too.

"We have sold 155 tickets already and still the calls come in for more. We have also had a £50 donation from Westham Cycles.

"I have already had a meeting with the council about what we are trying to do and I've been invited to another meeting with the council at the end of October."

Anyone who would like to buy party tickets can get them on 01305 774568 or 07403 598887.

New cafe opens for sixth form students

BUDMOUTH College's highly anticipated Sixth Form Café has been unveiled in Weymouth.

The opening was performed by Doctor Neil Hardisty – a Budmouth veteran of 36 years – who unveiled a plaque formally marking the opening of the bistro.

He said: "It's going to open doors for our sixth formers and many future generations of students studying here at Budmouth."

Guests at the opening included the architect and project manager of both the new bistro and the newly opened Hub, Simon Duck from Interserve.

He said: "The café will definitely be positive for the students as food is an important part of the gateway between college and university life. Having only left university a few years ago, I do know how important these independent spaces are."

Sixth Form students have been delighted by the new café and Year 12 student Claire Webb said: "It gives me time and space to relax and the Wi-Fi is fantastic."

Budmouth already has a Costa Café but, with the rapid growth of the sixth form, an additional facility was required.

The café has taken six months to build, cost £600,000 and accommodates up to 100 students.

Figurative art goes on display

MEMBERS of Weymouth's Life Drawing Group work on exhibits for the Big Draw exhibition

(ABOVE and below) Artists of all ages and abiliteis produced a variety of work

by Harry Walton

WEYMOUTH'S Big Draw exhibition and events returns to the Mulberry Gallery at Weymouth Library from Monday, October 7th to Saturday, October 19th.

The exhibition will show a new range of figurative artwork from members of Weymouth Life Drawing Group. There will also be the usual chance to have a go with the popular figurative drawing fun day on Saturday, October 19th held within the gallery space.

The Big Draw is the world's biggest celebration of drawing. It has grown into a month-long festival, which runs in venues across the country throughout October.

Every year more people across the country join in with Big Draw events and engage in creative activities held in schools, museums and galleries.

This is the third year that Weymouth Life Drawing Group has embraced this national event, and each year their participation grows. Once again, professional and amateur artists have joined together to exhibit their artwork as part of a celebration of the benefits of drawing.

Susan R Hughes, visual artist and organiser of both Weymouth's Big Draw and Weymouth Life Drawing Group, said: "This is always a great opportunity for all members to exhibit their work, have it seen, and hopefully encourage everyone else to have a go.

"Drawing is for everyone and brings many beneficial qualities, for not only the gifted, but for anyone prepared to take the time to switch off from the hustle and bustle of life and learn a little about themselves."

Last year there was also an interactive drawing space were all were asked "to take a line for a walk". This was an opportunity to doodle, show off artistic talents and have a bit of fun. All ages took part and were inspire by the challenge to give it a go!"

The figurative drawing fun day runs from 11am till 1pm on Saturday, October 19th, in the library gallery space. There will be a £1 fee to cover the cost of materials and the event aims to be a fun day of dressing up and drawing.

People are urged to come along and explore some drawing techniques, with a range of materials, work with an experience tutor to guide you, or have ago at being an artist's muse, or even just see what's going on!

Choir adopt a composer for radio broadcast

by Harry Walton

WEYMOUTH'S Quangle Wangle Choir has been chosen as one of five music ensembles nationally to benefit from the "Adopt A Composer" scheme organised through Making Music.

Every year up to six composers are paired up with ensembles around the UK and they then spend a year collaborating to produce lots of new music together. The final performances are recorded and broadcast by BBC Radio 3.

The whole thing is run in partnership with Sound and Music and funded by the PRS for Music Foundation.

This is the 12th year of running the scheme.

The Quangle Wangle Choir, led by Juliet Harwood, has been paired with Jenni Pinnock, whose work has been described as refreshing and imaginative.

Her work is heavily influenced by nature and the world around us. Jenni's work has been performed around the UK and Europe.

The choir, which was delighted to be one of only five chosen from 40 applications, get their first opportunity to meet with Jenni on October 4th when their exciting year of working together will begin. It will also be the choir's 20th anniversary year.

The other successful ensembles were the Bristol Reggae Orchestra, Cambridge Symphony Orchestra, The Cobweb Orchestra from Cumbria and London's Clapham Community Choir.

The next opportunity to see the Quangle Wangle Choir in action is on October 19th at 7.30pm in Puddletown Village Hall, where the choir will be including songs from their latest CD, Syllabub Sea.

Fire service to throw open its doors

ALL those who work with communities across Dorset have been invited to Weymouth Community Fire Station and Safety Centre tomorrow (October 4th) to find out what a modern fire and rescue service is all about.

Joining a school visit with Chickerell Primary Academy, the guests include the High Sherriff of Dorset Catriona Payne and Chief Constable Debbie Simpson.

They will have an opportunity to witness what more than 1,500 children have experienced in the FireWise, HealthWise educational suites. There will also be a demonstration of firefighting skills and a chance to see the impact domestic sprinklers can have with a before and after fire scenario.

Guests will also be given a copy of "Saving Lives, Changing Lives....with you", a new brochure outlining the programmes DFR can deliver to children, young people, vulnerable people, adults and service partners.

Chief Fire Officer Darran Gunter, hosting the event said: "It is vitally important that we educate our communities about the dangers of fire and different lifestyle choices.

"This starts with those key individuals who influence communities and can help us make our most vulnerable communities safer. We are a trusted organisation and are therefore able to work with most vulnerable to make their lives safe and more fulfilling. We don't just save lives – we change lives.

"The launch of our new brochure is a significant step for DFRS.

"This allows national and local agencies to commission our services in order to target their most at risk and work with us to make them safer."

Dorset Fire Authority chairman Councillor Rebecca Knox said: "The day is all about broadening their knowledge about Dorset Fire and Rescue Service and what we can do for them.

"I am particularly passionate about the sprinkler project and encouraging all businesses and homes to consider the use of sprinklers.

"If we can spread this message across the county we can make all our residents safer."

Free Car Seat Safety Check

Babygear Car Park Bridport DT6 3RL • Sat Oct 5th 3.30-6.30

PARENTS are putting young children at risk of serious injury by fitting the wrong type of car seat.

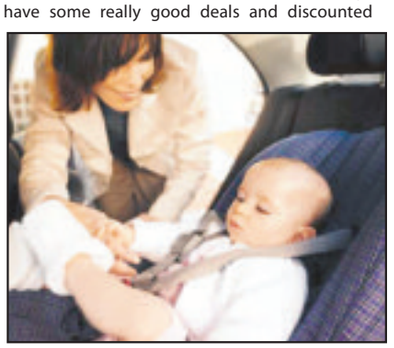

The AA and car seat manufacturer Britax conducted a joint survey, and found that just 32.5% of drivers installed child car seats properly and, worryingly, more than 83% of drivers questioned were unaware of the UK's strict rules on the use of child car seats.

Researchers visiting a council car seat fitting clinic in Cambridgeshire.found every single one of the car seats bought on line was wrong for the car, wrong for the child or incorrectly fitted! Which? magasine warned against buying child seats from websites which offer inadequate advice and no fitting service. Which? found independent retailers the best for offering sound accurate advice with Major supermarkets Tesco and Asda coming bottom in the survey scoring just 22 per cent and 4 per cent respectively.

UK law states that all children travelling by car must use a suitable car seat until they are 135cm tall or 12 years old Babygear is celebrating 30 years of fitting carseats and cares about your child being safe. We price match where we can and always have some really good deals and discounted prices. We will also fit and advise for free! Which? Magazine advises parents to go to a store and try them out, with your child and your car.

Do you value your child's life?? If so then please come to Babygear on October 5th to have your car seat checked by trained staff. There will be no charge and the check should take approx. 10 mins.

AS I SEE IT ...

Family allsorts

WE recently had a large family get-together with ages ranging from two to 83.

It was a rare occasion when there were 25 sitting together for a previously booked mid-day meal. As some of us live some 200 miles apart, it was a good time to renew relationships.

Whilst there was a great unity among us, like any family, we are all different. Some have various physical problems and not everyone shares our Christian faith.

I am reminded of the hymn: "At even ere the sun was set," relating to Luke 4:40. The hymn includes the phrase: "For some are sick; and some are sad; and some have never loved Thee well; and some have lost the love they had." and ends with the words: "And in Thy mercy, heal us all."

In a box of liquorice allsorts there are different varieties, but they have one thing in common. They all contain liquorice.

Our family are not all the same, but we have the common link of all being family. Although we value all of them, we are particularly thankful for those, both young and old, who are very committed Christians.

And we pray for those who are not.

by Harry Walton

PORTRAIT Youth Dance Company has a brand new home at Weymouth College.

And the company is urging young people aged 14-21 years to join them for a new season and take advantage of state of the art facilities to help develop their talent and work with some of the best dance artists in the country.

Dorset County Youth Dance and Activate Performing Arts are behind this initiative which will see the selected company of dancers meet once a week during term time and half term holidays.

They will work with artistic director Carly Reader and leading national dance companies to create dance pieces that are performed indoors and outdoors in venues across Dorset.

Sessions will be held in the dance studio at Weymouth College on Wednesdays from 5.30pm to 7.30pm.

Portrait will be managed by Activate Performing Art, based at The Little Keep in Dorchester.

Open auditions will be held at the college. Once selected, participants will commence with regular weekly sessions on Wednesday, October 9th, A bespoke business training program will be offered alongside this so dancers can learn how to manage a dance company and a freelance portfolio career in the arts.

Activate dance producer Libby Battaglia, who has been instrumental in securing this partnership said: "I am so excited about the opportunities that the Portrait members will have access to.

"It really is a springboard to other adventures for those who truly love dance and the arts."

Portrait offers a chance for young people to understand the portfolio of work that they could develop as they embark on careers in the contemporary and future world of dance.

They will experience a range of dance styles including; Contemporary Dance, Parkour and Street Dance delivered by leading artists and companies including the stunning Zoonation, The Urban Playground and 2Faced Dance Company. As well as participating in regular dance technique classes they will have the opportunity to watch professional dance performances and develop other creative skills such as choreography, arts management and producer skills. Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Attacker found hiding in curtains

I'VE just been scared witless in my own home and the only thing I did was draw the curtains.

There I was sat working away at the computer when a persistent rapid tapping on a window drew my attention.

I quickly hopped up to go and investigate because I thought it was a butterfly that had got trapped, my garden being full of them at the time, feasting on the buddleia.

But the moment I untwirled the first curtain a menacing buzz shot straight at my face!

It startled the hell out of me because I didn't know what it was as I leapt balletically out of the way, knocking over a book and the remains of a cup of tea.

Cautious investigation from the other side of the room revealed that my attacker was an angry dragonfly which had become enmeshed in the curtain folds.

Adopting my lion tamer pose, I cautiously encouraged it out into the garden to continue cruising the area.

Wasps making up for lost time

WASPS certainly made up for lost time in the last part of summer and the first part of autumn.

Numbers were well down initially and pleasant summer weather in the Weymouth area was made even more pleasant by not having to constantly swat away these bothersome black and yellow intruders.

But it didn't last and all too soon everyone was watching out for wasps, one local tourist attraction even going so far as to put up a warning notice on its door about these insects with a sting in their tail.

People told me that some wasps were so persistent that they got into children's mouths at picnic tables and I personally have seen hoardes of the little beggars not just feasting on fallen fruit but practically patrolling beauty spots where they doggedly tried to share picnic food.

Inevitably there has been a pretty ferocious reaction against them and attractions have done everything they can to repel boards from drowning them in bottle filled with a sugary liquid to using specialist wasp traps to keep numbers down. One site even issued sticks with home-made wasp swats on the end.

Fortunately the wasp season is over now with only an occasional sighting but, if they can survive the horror summers we have had recently and still come back in such numbers, what might their presence be like next summer if we get a normal winter with lighter rainfall? Keep those swats handy!

Twelve week preparation for the big day

LESS than twelve weeks to go until Christmas and it seems that people are already making plans.

We went out for a meal the other day and the woman on the table next to us was perusing several menus she'd picked up from different places for Christmas meals.

You can't go into a shop now without being visually battered by cards, decorations, messages and "seasonal goodwill" while to believe the notices to "Buy early for Christmas" you'd think Santa was clambering down the chimney next Tuesday!

I'm just waiting for that knock on the door and the joy of opening it to hear: "We wish you a Merry……!" with the first carol singers of the season.

Fortunately that is still some distance away but, from a person who loves Christmas, it is already starting to wear a bit through all the merchandising and corporate drive to cash in on the yuletide market.

I'll celebrate this festival with the best of them, but wouldn't it be nice to start celebrations say ten days before Christmas Day instead of having to run the gauntlet of advertising and card selling for months in advance.

Anyhow, I can't sit here talking to you. Got to hang up my Christmas stocking, check I've got a jar of Cranberry sauce in and start wrapping the presents.

Just doesn't sound right, does it?!

Technology never fails to disappoint

THERE is a famous saying: To err is human, but to really foul something up you need a computer.

More than dozen members of Weymouth and Portland's planning committee can attest to the accuracy of this statement after their meeting briefly ground to a halt when the display screening plans for various developments broke down.

Seeing a plan for a scheme ahead of debate helps councillors visualize what they are talking about, something they found a bit difficult to do with a blank screen.

But all was not lost and officers leapt in to action with some old fashioned technology to tackle the shortcomings of broken new technology.

There was much rustling of paper and then one member of staff grabbed one side of a plan and another unfolded the document before grabbing the other, both of them holding up the stretched out plan so councillors could get a look at what they were talking about.

Fortunately it was a relatively short committee and the inconvenience was small, but it raised a laugh or two.

Sign up and join the ranks as a special constable

DORSET Police are offering a final chance to join their ranks at a Special Constable.

The force is keen to recruit police specials – especially in rural Dorset where there is a shortage of volunteers.

Special constables are volunteer police officers who have the same powers as regular police officers, wear the same uniform and are issued with the same equipment.

The closing date for applications is October 11th.

Debi Potter, Chief Officer of the Special Constabulary, said: "Special constables are a vital part of Dorset Police, working alongside full-time officers and police staff including PCSOs, making a difference in our communities.

"We are looking to appoint specials in different areas right across Dorset and are particularly keen to hear from anyone who wants to work in rural areas of the county.

"We hope to encourage people living in quieter countryside locations to sign up so they can be directly involved in policing their community.

"A few hours of your time each week could make a real difference in your community and will give you the opportunity to learn new skills, meet new people and gain excellent experience in a fulfilling and varied role."

Chief Constable Debbie Simpson said: "We want to build upon our success of previous campaigns and continue to increase our Special constabulary even further.

"Special constables are a vital part of Dorset Police's community engagement and ideal for those people wishing to learn new skills, take on a fresh challenges and who want to give something back to their communities."

Police and Crime Commissioner for Dorset, Martyn Underhill, said: "I admire and value the dedication and commitment that every Special Constable brings to Dorset Police.

"They play an important role in reducing the fear of crime by offering reassurance to communities.

"Being a Special opens up a world of opportunity for both the individual and the force and I welcome applications from all sections of the community."

Specials in Dorset are provided with full training and are given the opportunity to get involved in a range of day-to-day policing activities, including patrol work, community events and targeted operations.

A special constable is asked to work a minimum of 16 hours per month and, where possible, this is broken down to a minimum of four hours per week.

Further information is available via the Dorset Police website.

Council welcomes Sara to the team

DORSET County Council has appointed a new director for children's services.

Sara Tough will join the council in the New Year after serving out her notice at Swindon Borough Council where she has worked for the last five years as service director for children, families and community health.

Sara, 54, began her career as a social worker with Shropshire County Council after completing a degree in sociology at Goldsmith's London and gaining her social work qualification at Swansea University.

She became a team manager, then service manager at Shropshire before moving into the private sector as a director working with very traumatised children and managing a residential care setting.

She also acted as an expert witness in court cases and supported local authorities before moving back to the public sector at the unitary Telford Borough Council.

At Swindon she has set up a new integrated children's service, which includes social care, education, youth support and community health.

Sara said: "I have a real passion for making sure the whole system works well together in the interests of the children we support. For me it's about closing the gaps to help children with the challenges they face in their lives and helping families build their resilience to become more self-reliant.

■ SARA Tough, to be the new director for children's services at Dorset County Council

"Practitioners working with children have a very unique and special set of skills which need to be used across the whole range of services to benefit children and young people.

"I'm absolutely delighted and really excited to be coming to Dorset. I feel that I will fit well with the way the council needs to develop in future, particularly in light of the financial challenges."

She will replace Jackie Last, who is retiring at the end of October. Jackie, the council's former deputy director for children's services, took over from John Nash in September 2012.

Dorset County Council's chief executive Debbie Ward said: "This is a vitally important role for the county council and I am delighted we have been able to appoint Sara. Her energy, commitment to children and young people and enthusiasm in coming to the county made her the obvious choice."

Malabar Trading

IT'S a bountiful time at Malabar Trading as the new stock begins to come in. The photograph shows a detail of one of the Iranian kilims which have recently arrived. These kilims are made by the Qashqai, a nomadic tribe in Southern Iran. The kilims are renowned for their colours and the quality of the wool used.

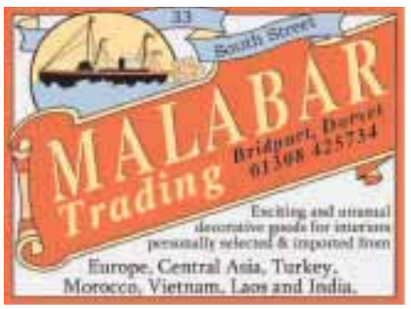

Afghan kilim cushions in subtle colours have also arrived, and a variety of Afghan kilim runners in traditional colours.

The ever popular Japanese ceramics have just arrived and there are many new designs.

By the end of October there will be more Turkish kilims and the Indian textiles will be in the shop, quilts and bedcovers, tablecloths and throws and much more. There will also be woollen scarves and shawls and other accessories.

There are also Vietnamese silk jackets and silk velvet coats, and there is more clothing due during October.

As ever there is a wide range of cotton nightwear, silver jewellery and stationery.

Moodboards - save you time, money & your sanity!

HOW DOES A MOOD BOARD WORK?
A moodboard is a representation of all that you want to use for your colour scheme. Interior designers create them when they're planning new looks, and it's a method that will help you, too. By combining your proposed paint colour, samples of wallpapers, fabrics and flooring, and pictures of furniture and accessories, you can see the elements of your room in one place, try out alternatives, and check your favourites all work together perfectly.

HOW TO MAKE A MOOD BOARD
To create your moodboard, you'll need to start with a plain piece of board - A3 is perfect, and bigger if you prefer. Then collect examples of everything you might want to use in the room. Buy tester pots for paints, and get samples of wallpaper, fabrics and carpet or other flooring from suppliers. When it comes to furniture and accessories, cut out pictures from magazines and catalogues. You might want to take your own photos, too, of items you see and like, as well as of the parts of your existing room that you're keep.

Helpful little tips!

KEEP NOTES AS YOU SHOP: It's a good idea to make a note on the back of the paint color cards, telling yourself the name of the store where you picked it up, and the paint brand whenever this information isn't printed there already. Since most home centers and hardware stores carry more than one brand of paint, you may discover the perfect color, and then find you can't remember where you got the sample! Then you'll have to start over. Ugh!

SHED A LITTLE LIGHT: The best way to get a true view of a paint color is to look at it in many lights. Take the paint chip outside to see it in natural light. Look at in under an incandescent and fluorescent light. Best yet, take the paint chip, fabrics, and accessories to the room in which they'll live. Check out the colors there.

LOOK UP TO THE CEILING: Light colors are usualy most pleasing for a ceiling, because ceilings are seen in shadow. If you'd like the ceiling to match the wall color, buy ceiling paint one or two shades lighter than the wall color (on its color chip). Or, dilute your wall color with white paint in a ratio of 25% color to 75% white.

PICKING A SOFA: A sofa is one of the most important furniture purchases for your home, so before you buy a sofa make sure you are getting one that fits your needs.
A sofa that is perfect for your living room could be a terrible idea for your family room. First figure out how you want to use your sofa and who will be using it. Determine whether your sofa is a good fit for your space, and since there are sofas to fit any style of room, look for one that satisfies your own personal sense of style. The fabric you select for your sofa contributes immensely to its usability and beauty.
Just as when you buy any furniture, you should be confident that you are buying the best quality sofa for your budget, and that it offers you the comfort you need from it.

Bake with compassion for charity this October

MEMBERS from local animal welfare group Compassionate Dorset are celebrating "Bake With Compassion Month" throughout October, starting with their popular annual vegan cake sale in Dorchester town centre on Saturday, October 5th.

Bake With Compassion is the leading farm animal welfare charity Compassion in World Farming's annual event to raise awareness and funds to end the suffering caused by factory farming and celebrate ethical, higher welfare produce, and to reduce the unsustainable demand for meat and dairy.

Compassion's current major campaign "Project Pig" is fighting to end the suffering of millions of Europe's pigs following recent investigations into pig farming in Spain, Italy and Ireland where they found shocking widespread maltreatment of pigs enduring terrible conditions.

Compassionate Dorset Co-founder, Anna Celeste Watson said: "Everyone loves a cake and taking cakes into work or school, baked with free-range, high welfare, or even vegan ingredients, is a great opportunity to bring people together, have fun and to raise awareness and vital funds for Compassion.

"Some of our group members have previously held their own tea parties for family or friends with one member, April Walker-Bambury, holding a Compassionate Tea Party with her pupils at Lewesston School in Sherborne. Royal Veterinary College PhD student Sophie Collins hosted her own Come Dine With Me dinner party with her friends in Weymouth, and Laura Hodgson and Sue Loveless are putting on a meat-free day at work in Briantspuddle on alternate Fridays to raise funds"

Fellow Compassionate Dorset Co-founder Sandra Hood from Crossways, held a nutritional cooking workshop for last year's Bake With Compassion with fellow dietitian Sarah Smith, and is running the cake sale in Dorchester on October 5th.

■ COMPASSIONATE Dorset's Percy Pig hosts his own tea party for fellow volunteers in Dorchester to plan for Bake With Compassion

Sandra said: "At all our bake events I have been so encouraged that most people do care about where their food comes from and want more information. People seem pleasantly surprised at how delicious cooking can be without even using any animal ingredients at all and love the free meat-free and vegan recipe booklets we have on our stall.

"A more plant-based diet can help energise you, keep you slimmer, and help reduce the risk of heart disease, diabetes, cancer and other illnesses. I must admit I do have a sweet tooth though and particularly love baking vegan chocolate cake and cheesecake, and a little bit of what you fancy does you good - just make sure it's in moderation."

This year's Bake With Compassion are linking up with the "Labelling Matters" campaign and encouraging bakers to inspect labels to ensure that the ingredients they bake with are higher-welfare.

Sandra said: "Even if you are not a baker and don't want to get involved in baking for Compassion, you can always bake with compassion and only buy free-range and high welfare ingredients or ready-made foods. If it doesn't say 'free range' then it is probably factory farmed and beware of anything that says 'farm fresh', it doesn't mean anything. The 'Red Tractor' scheme is very misleading and offers few welfare benefits compared with basic standard industry practice.

"RSPCA Freedom Food is better as ensures greater space and bedding materials are provided, but the Soil Association Organic Standard currently has by far the highest welfare standards. We have Good Food Shopping Guides available to pick up at all our events to help people know what the labels mean."

Anna added: "We would love to hear from anyone who does want to host their own bake event or send us their compassionate baking photos, or maybe people can ask their local village hall or church to provide coffee, cake and chat for a Compassionate Coffee Morning. Cafes, canteens or food businesses could use more free-range ingredients or put on a special dish for the month - it could even put them on the way to winning a Good Farm Animal Welfare Award."

Dorset business The Gilded Teapot, who source and sell fine and rare speciality loose teas and fair trade coffees in their Dorchester shop, in the Tudor Arcade, will be promoting Bake With Compassion throughout October, collecting donations for the charity and recommending the perfect teas to accompany compassionate cakes.

Compassionate Dorset supporter Paul Fairman is also running the first ever full marathon at The Bournemouth Marathon Festival for Compassion on Sunday, October 6th plus Compassionate Dorset will be hosting a film night on Saturday, October 19th which will see the remarkable story of a maverick organic dairy farmer and his unruly cows come to West Stafford Village Hall for a special screening of the British documentary film everyone is talking about - "The Moo Man".

THE FACTS

The number of people being diagnosed with breast cancer is increasing, but the good news is survival rates are improving. This is probably because of more targeted treatments, earlier detection and better breast awareness.

The biggest risk factor, after gender, is increasing age – 80% of breast cancers occur in women over the age of 50.

Breast cancer also affects men, but it's rare – around 300 men are diagnosed each year.

Breast cancer is not one single disease there are several types of breast cancer.

Not all breast cancers show as a lump, and not all breast lumps are breast cancer.

Less than 10% of breast cancer runs in families, so having someone in your family with breast cancer doesn't necessarily mean your own risk is increased.

THE STATS

Around 50,000 new cases of invasive and non-invasive (DCIS)* breast cancer are diagnosed each year in the UK. This October around 4,000 people will receive the devastating news they have breast cancer.

Nearly 12,000 people die from breast cancer in the UK every year.

Breast cancer is the second biggest cause of death from cancer for women in the UK, after lung cancer.

There are an estimated 550,000 people living in the UK today who have had a diagnosis of breast cancer.

In women under the age of 35, breast cancer is the second most commonly diagnosed cancer.

* Ductal carcinoma in situ (DCIS) is an early form of breast cancer, sometimes described as anintra-ductal or non-invasive cancer.  This refers to invasive breast cancer. Statistics correct at time of publication.

For more stats or to speak to one of our Clinical Nurse Specialists, email press@breastcancer care.org.uk or call 020 7960 3464 / 07702 901 334.

How do I check my breasts?

There's no right or wrong way to check your breasts. Try to get used to looking at and feeling your breasts regularly. Remember to check all parts of your breast, your armpits and up to your collarbone.

What changes should I look and feel for?

Nobody knows your body like you do,so you're the best person to notice any unusual changes.

- Changes in size or shape.
- Changes in skin texture such as puckering or dimpling.
- Inverted nipple.
- A lump or thickening of breast tissue.
- Redness or a rash on the skin/around the nipple.
- Discharge from one or both nipples.
- Constant pain in breast or armpit.
- Swelling in armpit/around collarbone.

Hospital staff recognised for hard work and dedication

DORSET County Hospital staff and volunteers received recognition for their hard work and dedication at the 2013 "Going the Extra Mile Awards and Long Service Awards".

The awards were presented for long service for 15 and 30 years and for making an outstanding contribution to the hospital.

Colleagues, patients and relatives were asked to nominate hospital staff and volunteers for a number of awards to honour those who have gone over and above what is expected to make a difference to people's lives.

The winners received their awards from Trust Chairman Dr Jeffrey Ellwood and Chief Executive Jean O'Callaghan at a presentation ceremony held at the Dorford Centre in Dorchester.

The Trust's Director of Workforce and Human Resources Mark Power, who opened the ceremony, said: "Our awards are a true celebration of the contribution and achievements of our wonderful staff and volunteers, and the fantastic work they undertake on behalf of our hospital's many patients, carers and service users.

"Dorset County Hospital is a well-respected and much-loved hospital and we are known for our excellent standards of patient care, the quality of our services, our cleanliness and the provision of award winning food.

"Of course we wouldn't have such a reputation were it not for our truly dedicated, multi-professional and multi-skilled workforce.

"Quite simply, it's our staff who make the difference and each and every one of our employees deserves to be recognised for the unique contribution they make."

THE MAN OF A THOUSAND HATS

Bernardo will perform Continental Guitar in Dorchester

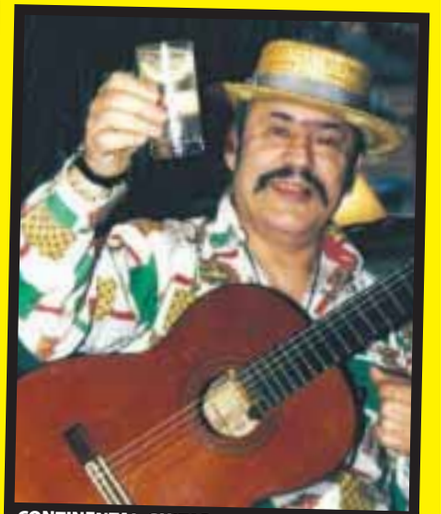

DORCHESTER'S No. 6 Restaurant is set to host a very special performance from guitar maestro Bernardo on Thursday, October 17th.

Bernardo is a highly regarded guitarist and published composer, and is formerly guitarist in residence at Thornbury Castle near Bristol.

The performance will see Bernardo perform his trademark 'Continental' romantic acoustic guitar music, which he adapts to his audiences, and sees him touch upon many styles and cultures. He has been previously dubbed 'The Man of 1000 Hats' due to his uncanny ability to don a traditional regional hat and performing a piece entirely believably in the regions style - be it Spanish, Russian, French or otherwise.

Don't miss Bernardo when he plays at No. 6 Restaurant, 6 North Square, Dorchester (across from South Street Lloyds Bank) on Thursday, October 17th at 7.30pm.

QUANGLE WANGLE TO PERFORM IN PUDDLETOWN

The choir will peform at the village hall later this month

THE Quangle Wangle Choir's diverse programme of sea and sky songs explores a range of aspects …. relationships, adventures, freedom, beauty! As a line from 'I Wish I Knew How It Would Feel To Be Free' has it, we'll "soar to the sky and look down at the sea".

With songs from their recent CD, 'Syllabub Sea', the choir will celebrate all things maritime from pop songs to a sea shanty to the Owl and the Pussy Cat's famous adventure. The sky will be celebrated in songs from South Africa, the American shape-note tradition, Carole King, Ali Burns and watch out for Mr Bond! Also proudly displayed will be the choir's stunning new banner, their own creation of the Syllabub Sea, with sparkling fish swimming in a silken sea. Further information about the choir can be found atwww.qwchoir.co.uk or friend the choir on facebook and follow the fun!

The Quangle Wangle Choir are singing in Puddletown Village Hall at Saturday, October 19th, starting at 7.30pm. Tickets available by calling 01305 848510 or 848646. Tickets are £10 to include refreshments, and a reduction for 16 year olds and under is available. Bar and raffle also available.

Major Hollywood Star to Celebrate National Poetry Day in Lyme Regis

Natascha McElhone will feature in Look, Stranger at the Marine Theatre

HOLLYWOOD A-lister Natascha McElhone is making time from her busy film schedule to appear in a special event at The Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Friday, October 4th at 7.30pm. 'Look, Stranger' celebrates National Poetry Day through the poetry of WH Auden - arguably the greatest English poet of the 20th Century, who died 40 years ago this month - and the the songs of Benjamin Britten set to Auden's poetry, in vibrant new jazz arrangements by Ruthie Culver & The UtterJazz Quartet.

Natascha McElhone

McElhone shot to fame in 'Surviving Picasso' with Antony Hopkins, going on to leading roles in 'The Truman Show' with Jim Carrey, 'The Devil's Own' with Brad Pitt, 'Ronin' with Robert De Niro and 'Solaris' with George Clooney. Her latest film is a new version of Romeo & Juliet scripted by Julian Fellowes (creator of Downton Abbey) and co-starring Damian Lewis, due for release later this month.

For television she was acclaimed for the title role in 'The Other Boleyn Girl' and now has ongoing lead in the hit US series 'Californication' with David Duchovny. However, her early acting career included many theatre classics such as Shakespeare and Chekhof, so 'Look, Stranger' is rare opportunity to return to the poetic language she so loves. She will also be reading for the Forward Poetry Prize event at London's South Bank Centre next week, alongside Helen McRory and Juliette Stevenson.

McElhone's moving book 'After You' was published in 2011 about the untimely death of her beloved husband Martin in 2008, and the aftermath of being left with two young boys and pregnant with a third.

UtterJazz was created by singer Ruthie Culver to create inspiring live events with jazz and poetry. The performance of 'Look, Stranger' in Lyme Regis is part of a current Arts Council funded UK tour. Actors reading Auden at other venues include Samuel West and Sir Derek Jacobi. The show has been a sell-out success at its 3 performances so far, with jazz singer Ruthie Culver and her UtterJazz Quartet bringing swing, samba, funk, blues and grooves to Britten's stunning melodies and harmonies. With 'satirical, romantic and witty' lyrics by W.H. Auden, they are reinterpreted through all the technicolour influences of 21st century jazz, infused with classical sounds and unique improvisations that everyone can enjoy. The hugely talented, multi-discipline musicians in the UtterJazz Quartet have appeared with Ravi Shankar, STOMP, Groove Armada, Cleo Laine, Nigel Kennedy, The Sixteen, Herbie Hancock, Antonio Forcione, English Touring Opera & Jarvis Cocker - but not all at once! Full details at www.ruthieculver.com/look-stranger.

'Look, Stranger' featyring Natascha McElhone will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis this Friday, October 4th at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £14 and £12 for concessions, and TheatreFreidnds Discount is available. To book or for more details visit www.marinetheatre.com or call 01297 442138

Choirs come together for special concert with folk star

MEMBERS of the Axe Valley Community Choir, now in its fifth year, and the Charmouth and Bridport Rock and Pop Choir, a much more recent venture, are to be involved in an exciting venture with the well-known folk artist Charlie Dore with Julian Littman at the Electric Palace in Bridport. The new combined choir is to be known as the Electric Chorus, and will perform with Dore and Littman in Bridport on October 17th.

Award winning artist Charlie Dore is known for her bittersweet, subversive and original lyrics, sitting atop addictive melodies. From contemporary folk, through rootsy Cuban to her iconic hit 'Pilot of the Airwaves', the music refuses to be pigeon-holed. Her songs have been covered by the good and the great, from George Harrison through to Tina Turner, but her live concerts reveal that actually she keeps the best songs for herself.

Constantly swapping guitars, mandolin, ukelele and harmonium with Julian Littman, the energy is infectious. For their night at the Electric Palace they'll be joined by Edward's Electric Chorus - a mighty amalgam of two local choirs put together especially for the concert by choir leader Edward Jacobs. The choir will open the concert with their own set as well as joining Charlie for several songs.

A great evening of gorgeous harmonies is promised.

To book tickets call the box office on 01308 424901 or visit www.seetickets.com

Burma comes to Lyme Regis

NORTHERN International Theatre brings a compelling performance to Lyme's Marine Theatre on Friday, October 18th.

'The Burma Play, a comedy of terror' is a humorous, politically-sharp two-hander with original live music. Virtuoso performances run through the years of empire and dictatorship towards the current hopes and fears of the Burmese people.

A popular entertainer struggles to restore his damaged memory by going over his life and times. All he can recall is darkness and fear. His colleague pushes him to face the past by replaying their repertoire of gags, wordplay and sketches.

By turns darkly funny, poignant and tragic, a series of ingenious quick-cutting scenes communicate a modern history of Burma and its special connection with the UK.

After a short interval the hour-long performance is followed by a cast/audience discussion. Change has recently come to Burma, including the release of Aung San Suu Kyi and her election as an MP. But many political prisoners remain in jail; forced labour, ethnic and religious violence, displacement of people and the use of child soldiers continue. Recently asked how democratic Burma is on a scale of one to 10, Aung San Suu Kyi replied 'We are on the way to one'.

The audience at this performance will include Anna Roberts (Director of the Burma Campaign UK) and Kate Allen (Director of Amnesty International in the UK), so the discussion will have an extra flavour.

Northern International Theatre is a professional group brought together specifically to present The Burma Play. They have performed from the Edinburgh Festival Fringe to the Burmese community in London's Thingyan festival. They work free of charge: all the evening's proceeds will be shared between The Burma Campaign and Amnesty International which both support democracy and safety for the Burmese people.

Director David Bell, born in Burma, has clocked up more than 50 plays in fringe, regional and touring theatre. Anglo-Burmese performer Cilla Baynes's father was in the next room to Aung San, the independence leader and father of Aung San Suu Kyi, when he was assassinated in 1947. Director of Community Arts Northwest, Cilla was awarded an MBE for her work. Musician/composer Omar Sattaur lived as a journalist in South Asia and now performs with several ensembles including the international fusion band Beating Wing.

The play is promoted by the Lyme Regis Group of Amnesty International, the performance is at 7.30pm on Friday, October 18th. Tickets cost £7 (£6 concessions) online from www.marinetheatre.com, from the Tourist Information Centre in Lyme Regis (01297-442138), by calling 01297 442237, or on the door.

Andy Kershaw to share his life story at Bridport Arts Centre

WHETHER it applies to foreign adventures, romances, motorcycles, nervous breakdowns or relationships with a piece of music, Andy Kershaw has always lived by his most reliable maxim: if you're going to have one, have a big one.

This October the broadcaster and former Radio 1 DJ comes to Bridport Arts Centre for an evening of conversation about his life and widely acclaimed autobiography.

As a teenager he was promoting major rock gigs. He was Billy Bragg's driver and roadie one day and presenting Whistle Test and Live Aid the next. A passionate music enthusiast, he is a man with an obsessive curiosity about the world. Over a twenty-five year career, he has worked for the Rolling Stones and Bruce Springsteen, shared an office with John Peel and amassed a record collection that weighs seven tons. He has won more Sony Radio awards than any other broadcaster. He has visited 97 countries and as a foreign correspondent, filed numerous reports for Radio 4. He was also one of the few journalists present during the Rwanda genocide.

Andy Kershaw

The past few years have seen him go through a turbulent time in his personal life, but he has put this behind him, written his story and returned to the airwaves fronting the BBC's Music Planet series.

Rebel. Maverick. Music fanatic. Andy Kershaw will share the story of his life with candour, insight, immediacy and incredible humour, on Tuesday, October 22nd at 7.30pm. Tickets £10 from Bridport Arts Centre's Box Office 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

Lecture at Dorset County Museum

Alfred Russel Wallace and Natural Selection by Dr Peter Raby

ALFRED Russel Wallace was one of the late nineteenth century's most outstanding scientific thinkers. He is probably best known as the co-discoverer (with Charles Darwin) of the principle of natural selection but he also made significant contributions in many other fields and founded the discipline of biogeography. Followers of Wallace still regard him as the pre-eminent field biologist, collector and naturalist of tropical regions – he collected over 125,000 natural history specimens in SE Asia alone.

However, his work in many areas is not well known even today and his significant achievements remain poorly recognised. In his talk, Dr Peter Raby of Homerton College, Cambridge, who wrote a biography of Wallace in 2001, will seek to redress the balance. He will describe how Wallace wrote to Charles Darwin excitedly outlining his new theory of natural selection, throwing Darwin into a panic. Just two weeks later Darwin's outline and Wallace's paper were jointly presented in London. The following year Darwin, using much of the material from Wallace's meticulous research, published On the Origin of Species to wide acclaim. Wallace, meanwhile, was still on the other side of the world - his crucial contribution to the work largely overlooked.

Dr Raby's talk, The Man who Selected Darwin, complements the Museum's current exhibition Alfred Russel Wallace: A Centenary Celebration which provides a rare opportunity to see its entire collection of brightly coloured bird skins from Wallace's Malay Archipelago trip in 1854-1855. Dr Raby has also written widely on drama and the theatre and is the editor of the Cambridge Companions to Oscar Wilde and Harold Pinter.

The lecture takes place at 7.30pm on Wednesday, October 23rd. Entry is free and the doors are open from 7pm.

An evening with the humour of Bob Newhart and Tom Lehrer

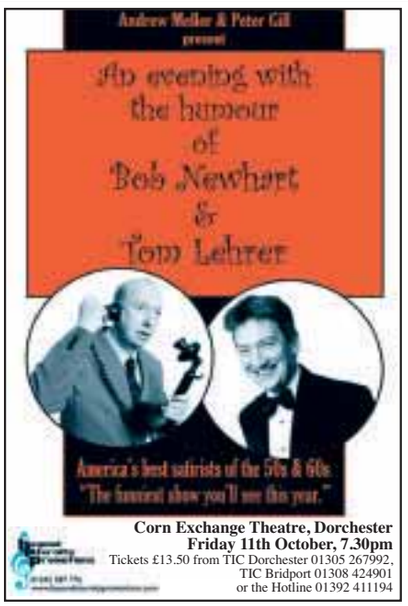

WELL-KNOWN jazz and rock 'n' roll piano/vocalist Peter Gill, and highly regarded fringe actor Andrew Meller, have joined forces to present a fabulous new, 90-minute show dedicated to the satirical humour of American comic legends Bob Newharty and Tom Lehrer.

Origination from the 1950s and 1960s, audiences will once again be rolling around with laughter as they are reminded of Newhart's Driving Instructor, Introducing Tobacco to Civilisation and The Cruise of the U.S.S. Codfish and Lehrer's sharp-witted songs Poisoning Pigeons in the Park, I Got It From Agnes and The Masochism Tango.

This is a wonderfully entertaining and light-hearted evening of wit suitable for those with at least a modicum of a sense of humour.

'An evening with the humour of Bob Newhart & Tom Lehrer' will take place at the Corn Exchange Theatre, Dorchester on Friday, October 11th from 7.30;m. Tickets (unreserved) cost £13.50 from TIC ODrchester (01305 267992), TIC Bridport (01308 424901) or the Hotline on 01392 411194.

Privately situated detached bungalow of immense quality and unique styling

THE bungalow, which has gas heating and double-glazed uPVc woodgrain effect windows, provides adaptable accommodation with the potential for further extension. The loft area, with skylights, is extensive and would lend its-self (subject to planning) to the creation of further living space. In brief the bungalow provides; an impressive approach through wide double doors to a lobby with cloakroom off; dining hall with access to the garden; sitting room with Minster stone fireplace; study; comprehensively fitted kitchen/breakfast room with integrated appliances; utility room; three double-bedrooms (the master having an en-suite shower-room and a family bathroom. Externally there is a double garage with remotely controlled up and over door and further vehicle hard standing. A feature of the property are the extensive gardens which extend to about 0.44 of an acre. There is a delightful wooded area, with many mature trees. The formal gardens extend to four sides of the bungalow and enjoy a high degree of privacy. The gardens have wide lawned areas and private seating areas. The cul-de-sac is approached by a Private road and extends in total to three bungalows all of a similar quality and nature. Given the uniqueness and size of the property internal viewing is most strongly advised.

Springcroft is situated about three miles from the Historic Seaside town of Lyme Regis which has a famous Cobb area and numerous quality retailers. Axminster, with mainline railway station, is about three miles distant. Axminster has a wide array of independent retailers including butchers and greengrocers. There are many restauraunts in the town recreational parks and schools. River Cottage Canteen and deli is based in the town. Supermarkets are also available on the outskirts. The A35 link road is to hand providing access to the South West and M5 motorway as well as Eastwards along the Jurassic coastline.

This detached bungalow is on the market for £450,000. Viewing is by appointment with Palmer Snell Lyme Regis 01297 443556

This light and contemporary two bedroom open plan property is located close to the high street and beaches

SUNPATCH is a modern contemporary property built in 2009 situated in a quiet and convenient location just off the high street. It has many interesting and quirky features that include timber framed double glazed windows, open plan living space that incorporates lounge/diner and kitchen, log burner, window seats and double doors that open onto a sunny decked area, with two ground floor bedrooms both with en-suites and a second outside area. The property offers light airy accommodation with a relaxed sea side atmosphere and is offered to the market with no onward chain.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well-known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require, in addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has recently been designated a World Heritage Site (and is commonly known as the Jurassic Coast), putting it in the same category as the Grand Canyon. It lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). The market town of Bridport is approximately 7 miles distant, with Taunton and Exeter within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway. The county town of Dorchester is within a similar distance.

Tristar Worldwide puts the Volvo V60 Plug-In Hybrid on trial

CHAUFFEUR company Tristar Worldwide has taken delivery of three Volvo V60 plug-in hybrids to trial as part of the Energy Saving Trust's Plugged-In Fleet Initiative (PIFI).

The vehicles will be with Tristar for six to eight months covering over 20,000 miles each. Initially placed with key decision makers at Tristar, the vehicles will then be rolled out to chauffeurs to fully assess the operational benefits of a Plug-in Hybrid.

The V60 Plug-in Hybrid works by the front wheels being powered by a five-cylinder 2.4-litre turbo diesel producing 215 hp and maximum torque is 440 Nm, while the rear axle is powered by an electric motor producing 70 horsepower, all while only producing 48g/km of CO2 on the combined cycle.

Funded by the Department for Transport and Transport for London, PIFI aims to demonstrate where plug-in vehicles can work practically to fulfil and maximise business needs, show where the vehicles work economically and provide vital insights into the fleet plug in vehicle market.

Chosen as part of 20 participating fleets in the initiative including Network Rail and the Environment Agency, Tristar's trial is aimed at helping explore if the currently used Volvo diesels could be replaced with Plug-in Hybrids.

Throughout the course of the trial Tristar will monitor running costs, mileage data and overall driver and customer feedback before compiling a final PIFI report at the trial's conclusion.

Despite only recently taking delivery of the vehicles, driver feedback has already been positive with drivers praising the ride quality and overall performance of the vehicle.

Dean De Beer, Tristar Worldwide Chauffeur Services CEO said: "It's important that we can offer our discerning clients a wide range of vehicle options including an ultra-low emission solution and the Volvo V60 Plug-in Hybrid is a potential option for this. We are constantly updating our Volvo fleet and the safety features in the latest cars are definitely helping us to reduce our operational costs. We hope that we can achieve similar gains with this vehicle."

Selwyn Cooper, Volvo Car UK national corporate operations manager said: "The V60 Plug-in Hybrid is the perfect vehicle for chauffeurs as it pairs luxury with a smooth and quiet driving experience. During the trial Tristar can look forward to reducing their overall running costs as well as placing their clients in the back of one of the safest cars on the road today."

Škoda is the largest manufacturing company in central Europe for the third year running

- ŠKODA UK enjoyed the most successful six months in its history between January and June 2013, achieving more than 32,000 new car registrations.
- ŠKODA UK has already received more than 15 major awards in 2013, with both the Yeti and Superb taking number one spots in national customer satisfaction surveys.
- The manufacturer now boasts an award-winning seven car line-up, comprising the Citigo, Fabia, Rapid, Octavia, Superb, Yeti and Roomster.
- Part of ŠKODA's long-standing association with cycling, double Olympian Ed Clancy is a brand ambassador for ŠKODA UK.
- ŠKODA Motorsport repeated its double win in 2012 as IRC Drivers' & Manufacturers' Champions, with Andreas Mikkelsen bringing home the IRC Drivers' title for ŠKODA UK Motorsport in a factory–prepared Fabia Super 2000.

ŠKODA auto is the largest manufacturing company in Central Europe for the third year in succession.

That's the main finding from the Central Europe (CE) Top 500 report, carried out by respected auditing firm Deloitte. It's the largest study of its kind on the region's economy, and is based on sales figures from 2012.

ŠKODA is placed third among companies across all industrial sectors for the third time in a row. The CE Top 500 includes a total of 84 Czech companies. ŠKODA's position as number one reflects the traditional car manufacturer's outstanding reputation, sales and development.

"ŠKODA is an important part of the Czech economy and has become an internationally recognised volume manufacturer," said Bohdan Wojnar, ŠKODA Board Member for Human Resources.

This is the seventh time that Deloitte has published the CE Top 500. Companies from a total of 18 countries were included in the study.

In 2012, ŠKODA reported a turnover of €10.4 billion, making it by far the highest-revenue manufacturing company in the area. Delivering 939,200 vehicles, up 6.8% on the 2011 total, the Czech manufacturer achieved a new sales record in 2012. Its operating profit was €712 million.

ŠKODA is set to grow even further in the years ahead. Its well-publicised growth strategy targets an increase in worldwide annual sales to at least 1.5 million by 2018. To achieve that, the most ambitious new product launch in the brand's 118-year history is underway. In 2013 alone, the brand has launched seven new or completely revised models.

At the recent Frankfurt Motor Show, the company presented two world premieres – the all-new ŠKODA Rapid Spaceback and the completely revised ŠKODA Yeti. This vehicle has now been split into two distinct model ranges, the ŠKODA Yeti for the city and the ŠKODA Yeti Outdoor for the more adventurous owner.

As part of its growth plans, ŠKODA is set to expand in the international emerging markets of China, India and Russia. The company is also investing heavily in its home market to support its position in Europe. In 2012 alone, the company's fixed asset investments increased by around 45% to a record €832 million. The vast majority of this was allotted to investments in the Czech Republic.

The main production plant in Mladá Boleslav has been extensively modernized and expanded to accommodate production of the ŠKODA Rapid and Rapid Spaceback, plus the new ŠKODA Octavia. The Technology & Development Centre in nearby Cesana is currently being extended. Around €34 million has been invested in construction of a new Powertrain Centre alone.

The importance of ŠKODA for the Czech economy is reflected in the numerous awards is has received. This year, the manufacturer won the 'Czech Top 100' competition for the 16th time. Victory in the individual category of 'Most Admired Company' also went to ŠKODA.

Mitsubishi Motors 40 years in Europe: The reference market

THIS month will mark the start of a milestone year for Mitsubishi Motors Corporation (MMC) as it is about to celebrate forty years of non-stop presence in the most strategic European market, from its first official display at the London Motor Show in October 1974 to the launch of the pioneering Outlander PHEV from late 2013 onwards.

Mitsubishi Goes International

Even though small numbers of Mitsubishi vehicles were already present in a few selected European countries, namely Spain (1956) and Greece (1962), Mitsubishi's own corporate export move to Europe came as a result of a unique agreement in February 1970 between Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Co. (MHI) and Chrysler Corporation whereby MHI would 1) spin off its already existing auto division and 2) join forces with Chrysler to create "Mitsubishi Motors Corporation" (MMC).

In May 1971, a further deal between Mitsubishi Motors Corporation and Chrysler International S.A. included the distribution of Mitsubishi vehicles through the global Chrysler International dealer network, except for Japan, the United States and Canada.

In a separate move, MMC became a joint company, shared by MHI (85%) and Chrysler Corporation (15%) from September 1971.

1974 London Motor Show

However, restricted by the terms of this agreement, Mitsubishi Motors sales remained very limited in Europe (4,861 units in total between 1971 and 1975) at a time sales of other Japanese brands soared, increasing from 16,458 units in 1965 to 126,275 units in 1970, to reach 528,486 units in 1975.

Eventually, in 1974, MMC and Chrysler International reached an agreement allowing MMC to develop its own sales & marketing activities in Europe.

From thereon, distribution rights were granted to independent companies, first in Belgium & Luxemburg (August 1974), followed within a few weeks by the Netherlands and then the United Kingdom, the country where Mitsubishi Motors is officially launched in Europe at the London Motor Show in October.

Lancer and Galant are both introduced at that milestone motor show and then made available to the European public from 1975 in those three countries, after similar successful unveilings at the Brussels Motor Show and the Amsterdam Motor Show (AutoRAI).

The rest of Europe will follow in due course, whether open to Japanese imports (e.g. Germany in 1977) or restricted by quotas (e.g. France in 1978). In the meantime, the agreement with Chrysler International had reached an end in August 1982, whilst MMC had already established a first liaison office in Rotterdam in 1977, the forerunner of today's Mitsubishi Motors Europe B.V. still based in the Netherlands.

DORSET UNDER 16s FOOTBALL

Dorset lose opener to Devon

Devon U16s 2 Dorset U16s 0
DORSET lost their opening match in the S&W Counties Championship Competition, going down 2-0 against local rivals Devon at Newton Abbot.

Dorset started the brighter of the two teams, pushing Devon back in their own half for long spells without causing the host defence too many problems.

Flyn Begley and Dan Morris both had shots deflected for corners by the home keeper Callum Khun.

The half time break seemed to serve the hosts well, as they pressed Dorset back on the defensive; goalkeeper Taylor Hibbs making two sharp saves before leaving the field through injury.

Fifteen minutes after the break an incisive counter attack from Devon put Fletcher Williams through on the left before unleashing an unstoppable shot over the top of replacement keeper Gerrard Benfield.

Two minutes later the visitors almost conceded a second when a shot hit the post and rolled in front of goal.

However it evaded the incoming striker before being scrambled to safety.

With both teams using their repetitive substitutions to the full Dorset began to press Devon back again, going close to equalising when a Lee Watkins free kick floated on top of the crossbar and again when a Sam Glatzel goal bound shot was tipped over by Klun in the home goal.

In time added on Will Nesbit secured the victory and three points for Devon from a free kick.

Dorset's next match is on October 20th, when they host Berks & Bucks at the County Ground, Hamworthy.

● Dorset Under 16 squad: Autwick (Moordown Athletic), Flynn Begley (Branksome Utd), Tom Begley (Branksome Utd), Benfield (Branksome Utd), Cooper Greenfields), Corbridge (Weymouth Youth), Francis (Kingswood Youth), Glatzel (Broadstone), Guthrie (Branksome Utd), Hayter (Lyme Regis), Hibbs (Blandford Utd Youth), Jones Branksome Utd), Morris (Dorchester Town Youth), Randall (Branksome Utd), Watkins (Portland Utd Youth), Wellman (Dorchester Town Youth).

CHARD & DISTRICT SWIMMING CLUB

Successful fourth gala for Chard

CHARD Swimming Club held their fourth club gala of the year at Flamingo Pool in Axminster last week, writes Hannah Pullinger.

Over 70 swimmers ranging from seven to 17 years took part.

Some excellent swims at the gala secured Silver Speed Badges for Somer Horsfield, Moli Riley, Sarah Underwood and Joss Copeman all swimming 50m freestyle under 36 seconds for the first time.

There were also many Somerset county qualifying times achieved at the gala (regional and national qualifying times cannot officially be achieved at this level of competition).

The Swimmer of the Month trophies for July were awarded to 14-year-old Jamie Pullinger and jointly to 10-year-old girls Leonie Housham and Eden McDonald on achieving the most progress points in galas during July.

WEYMOUTH GOLF CLUB

WEYMOUTH Golf Club's junior team have qualified for the Junior Team Golf Championship England Regional Quarter Final to be held at the Essendeon Country Club, Herfordshire.

The team, aged from 11 to 17 years old, booked their place by winning the regional final at Trethorne Golf Club at Launceston recently

The winners and runners-up at each quarter final will progress to the televised England semi finals, with the final taking place in March next year at Antequerra, Costa del Sol.

Team member Luke Madison confirmed that victory was secured by the youngest member Sam Trott with a gross 83 (nett 66).

As a result a jubilant Sam's handicap was dropped by two points to 15, the same as his dad's!

WEST DORSET YOUTH INDOOR CRICKET LEAGUE

New indoor youth season gets underway

THE West Dorset Youth Indoor Cricket League sponsored by and played at The Osprey Leisure Centre got underway on Saturday with two games in the Under 12's league.

U12s - Portland 88-2 beat Weymouth A
87-3 by four wickets
AFTER winning the toss Weymouth elected to bat and found runs hard to come by as Portland produced accurate bowling and fine fielding, with debutant Jacob Coombes striking in the third over ro remove Owen Lovett (1) with a brilliant caught and bowled.

This brought Peter Sapsworth (28 not out) to the wicket and he, along with fellow opener Tom (24), produced a stand of 47 runs that contained some glorious stroke play and fine running between the wickets.

With Sapsworth retiring, Portland quickly took two more wickets as the runs dried up and Weymouth closed on 87-3.

Portland's reply began well with ten runs coming from the first over.

A needless run out accounted for Owen Harrison (4) as Weymouth looked to apply pressure with some excellent bowling, but Coombes (18) and William Cotter (24 not out) kept the run rate up with some stylish stroke placement and confident running.

Coombes was run out with the score on 56 which brought Michael Dunning (14 not out) to the wicket, and he and Cotter took full advantage of anything wayward to steer Portland to victory with 16 balls to spare.

U12s - Cerne Valley
168 -1 beat Weymouth
63 all out by 105 runs
CERNE produced a batting masterclass as they put a plucky Weymouth to the sword in an emphatic victory.

All of the Cerne batsman bar D.Gray (14) who fell to a good catch, had to retire having reached 25 as all entertained a good crowd with great shot selection and superb running between the wickets.

Chasing a formidable target Weymouth were always up against it and despite a fluent 31 not out from Charlie P, were finally dismissed for 63 in the final over after putting up a great rearguard action against a side at the top of their game.

Grant Neven Indoor League co-ordinator added: "Great cricket, great sportsmanship and more than a little skill; the season got off to a brilliant start today and if the players can reproduce cricket of this standard every week, all spectators and supporters are in for a treat this winter out. Well played all."

BRIDPORT EVOLUTION BASKETBALL CLUB

Nomads punish weakened Evolution

Exeter Nomads 106 Bridport Evolution 58
A WEAKENED Bridport Evolution side were punished by Exeter and District Basketball League title contenders Exeter Nomads as the Dorset club began their league campaign last week.

The well drilled Exeter team proved why they are hotly tipped for the title this season with a ruthless offensive display.

Bridport had gone into the season opener as underdogs and were handicapped further when two key players pulled out with injury on the day of the encounter.

Things then went from bad to worse for the Bridport side with some draconian refereeing putting a number of the team into foul trouble in the early stages.

The strict marshalling continued, with no less than 59 free throws between the teams, and the stop-start nature of the game meant neither side was able to dictate the tempo. The match became a tactical battle but the experienced Nomads team had an answer for everything Evolution had to offer however, and scored freely from all areas of the court.

Leading the scoring for the home side was last season's league MVP Alex Boyle, who picked up 25 points for the hosts.

Bridport's top scorer was Dan Park who had five assists and three steals alongside his 13 points, with player-coach Tom Glover and Captain Craig Sorrell adding nine points apiece.

The rest of the points were spread well among the squad with ten of the 12 Bridport team getting their names on the scoresheet.

Although not a game to remember for some of Bridport's usual starting five there were some impressive displays by the squad.

Gavin King, who was called up at short notice, frustrated the opposition all night long with his tenacious defence and Alex Reid, another last minute replacement, led the rebounding with eight and scored the final points of the game with a fadeaway buzzer beater.

Ross Hughes also impressed with six points and as many rebounds, making the most of his starting opportunity.

Bridport travel to newly promoted Torbay Tigers on Monday night who won their opening game against Broadclyst Bandits 73-48.

● Players and points – Park 13, Glover 9, Sorrell 9, Robertshaw 8, Hughes 6, Kirby 4, King 4, Trivett 2, Reid 2, Gray 1, Collins, Dimitrov.

Herbert's lightning strike boosts Beaminster

Beaminster 4 Bournemouth 4th 0

SATURDAY's early morning thunder and lightning had appeared to have cleared Bridport on Saturday, but Lucy Herbert provided one late strike just 90 seconds into Beaminster Ladies opening fixture of the season at The Sir John Colfox School

She took advantage of early pressure in the visitor's D to slip home an early goal in what proved a fairly easy victory over Bournemouth 4th's in this Channel Division 1 match of the West Clubs Women's Hockey League.

The Beaminster committee have worked hard in the summer to recruit new blood to the club after the usual loss of players leaving for university, and it was rewarded with an energetic and enthusiastic display by a side containing a balance of experience and young talent.

◆ LIGHTNING STRIKE: Lucy Herbert who scored inside the first 90 seconds as Beaminster opened their season with a victory

Such was Beaminster early dominance that the Bournemouth keeper was forced into three excellent saves to prevent the home side from adding to their score, and although they settled down to make some inroads into the home half they found Beaminster's defence a tough one to breakthrough and it wasn't until the final five minutes that home keeper Lisa Condliffe was forced into a save.

Despite a number of efforts on goal it wasn't until the 23rd minute that Beaminster increased their lead with a rarely seen penalty flick after a player was penalised for using the back of her stick.

South African Jana Littleproud, making her debut, confidently stroked it home.

Megan Tuck, making a welcome return to the team after completing uni, showed her power and speed down the wing and went close soon after with a crashing shot that just cleared the far post.

However just before the half hour Herbert, who has rejoined after sometime absent, added her second, following in after the keeper had made yet another save, to put Beaminster three clear.

Another debutant Tori Hosegood completed the scoring midway through the second half when she gathered Tuck's through ball out wide on the left before firing a vicious shot almost on the run that arrowed into the far corner of the goal.

Andrea Thomas, another former player that has returned after three years away, saw her effort saved by the visiting keeper, whose heroics earned her the player of the match, before Tuck blasted another shot just wide.

Olivia Brown did finally break through the home defences, but Condliffe denied her a consolation with a smart save.

This was an encouraging start for Beaminster who were able to name a squad of fourteen, every one of whom contributed to the victory.

Beaminster: Condliffe, Simmonds, Littleproud, Clarke, Hughes, Campbell, May, Thomas, Tuck, Herbert, Hosegood, Dale, Stewart, Davies

Bees earn quality point at Cadbury

Cadbury Heath 2 Bridport 2

BRIDPORT were well worth a point following their trip to Bristol on Saturday and came close to taking all three against a strong Cadbury Heath side.

Bridport started slowly against the Heathen's long ball style and fell behind on 16 minutes to a good goal from Matt Huxley, one of the league's most prolific scorers.

Shane Evans headed George Boon's corner away to the edge of the box where Huxley chested the ball down before firing a volley into the top corner giving Bees keeper San Filkins no chance.

The gloveman then did well to tip a long range shot over his crossbar.

Darren Watts replied with a 25 yard shot that just dipped over the bar as Bridport started to get into the game, before setting up the Bees equaliser.

Dan Wise played the ball in behind the home full back who got a touch. It looked to be running out for a corner, but the former Magpie eased his man off the ball before running along the byeline and playing it into Ryan Dovell to side foot home.

Bridport started the second half the better team but were caught out after five minutes when the Heathens broke quickly after clearing a Bridport corner, and when the ball was played into the box Evans was adjudged to have brought Lewis Shipp down in the area. Filkins got the better of the normally reliable Huxley from the spot kick however, getting down brilliantly to his left to save the penalty.

Bridport went ahead on 64 minutes when the home defence were caught out by Wise's quick free kick which found Tom Richardson inside the six yard box who forced the ball home at the back post.

The Bees could have extended their lead when Dovell just failed to keep the ball down as he slid in to meet Wise's cross and the ball flew over the bar, whilst Cadbury hit the bar and were just wide with a couple of headers.

It looked like the visitors had done enough to hang on for victory, but with five minutes left Liam Dempsey picked the ball up on the halfway line and ran unchallenged towards goal before releasing a thunderbolt from 25 yards that gave Filkins no chance.

Reserves back to winning habit

Bridport Reserves 2 Tintinhull 1

BRIDPORT Reserves returned to winning ways after three defeats in the Bespoke Teamwear Dorset Premier League, but once again were wasteful in front of goal.

They made the start they needed with Jack Scovell volleying home a corner from the six yard box and Ben Clarke heading home another flag kick inside 17 minutes. Then having wasted a couple of opportunities to extend the lead, the Tinmen struck back with an unstoppable Max Harrington free kick before the break.

Bridport dominated the second half. Although they struck the woodwork twice, had another effort cleared off the line, and saw Tristan Gale's penalty saved, they could not add to their score.

Manager Robin Townsend said: "We should have put the game to bed with the chances we had, but in the end it was a pleasing performance. Chris Senior once again led with his talking and both Russell Legg and Luke King, who was outstanding, were also impressive.

"The lads were really focussed and if we can continue you like that we will be a test for anyone."

Stordy hits seven minute hat trick

Bridport Thirds 5 AFC Cobham 1

BRIDORT Thirds exacted revenge on AFC Cobham who beat them 2-1 in the reverse fixture two weeks earlier, by trouncing them in the return, although it took a seven minute Adam Stordy hat trick to ensure the scoreline reflected their superiority.

The Bees bright start was rewarded with an early goal when Ryan Gall somehow dragged Chris Herbst cross from behind him in one motion to fire them ahead. They then took their foot off the pedal and Cobham equalised when they failed to clear their lines following a corner.

The game became much more even with both sides striking the bar; Gall with a header for Bridport and a long range effort from the visitors.

Bridport stepped up the pressure in the second half and went ahead with a fortunate goal; the Cobham wall jumping in the air allowing Herbst low free kick to go into the far bottom corner.

Stordy struck first with a header that found the bottom corner, and despite the visiting keeper making a series of excellent saves just after couldn't get anywhere near his 30 yard strike that zipped into the net. He then completed his hat trick after playing a one-two with Gall.

Manager Andy Hitchcock who struggled to get eleven players many times last year, had a squad of fourteen.

"This result should set us up a bit and give us confidence. Hopefully having a full squad with more yet to return throughout the three Bridport teams means that those with the shirts today need to ensure they continue to train and work hard to keep their places."

Youth Football

Stylish start to the season for Seventeens

THE Bridport Youth Under 17 football team have made an encouraging start to the new season, with two comprehensive wins over teams from Weymouth in the newly formed age category of the Dorset Youth League.

Before the first match, home sponsor and local business man David Taylor of David Taylor Property Services presented the new kit to manager Terry Warren and the team. David said how proud he was to be invited to supply the new home kit to the newly formed team, and wished Terry and the team the very best of luck for the season.

5 minutes into their first game against Weymouth Cougars a Sam Tabner corner was flicked on by Billy Jones for captain Jordan Gregory to make it 1-0. After a dubious offside flag denied him a goal Sam Tabner doubled the score with a neat shot through the keeper's legs. After a clever Will Lovell flick was also called offside Jonah Ayunga broke through the Weymouth defence only to be brought down in the box. After scoring the penalty Ayunga, made it 4-0 at half-time.

A complacent start to the second half by Bridport was punished by two quick strikes from the Cougars, helped by a very bumpy goalmouth .Bridport sregrouped and continued to press hard and were rewarded by two more goals from Sam Tabner, the first from a penalty kick. Cougars had to clear several shots from their goal line to keep the final score at 6-2.

The match against Weymouth Wanderers was won in similar style, with a final score of 8-2. Although again the team conceded an early goal in the second half, Bridport managed to maintain pressure on their opposition for the majority of the match, despite some lack of discipline by their opposition in the latter parts of the game. Every player actively contributed towards the emphatic win, with standout performances from Tom Foulsham and Jonah Ayunga. Sam Tabner showed his characteristic tenacity up front and was rewarded with a concussion and a trip to hospital. Bridport goals came from; Ayunga (4), Will Lovell, Jordan Gregory, Billy Jones and Olly Mullins.

Manager Terry Warren said: "The lads have trained hard over the summer and it's an encouraging start to the season. We've got some tough matches coming up so we'll need to stay fit and focused"

The Sir John Colfox School Athletics

Ryan ends season on high

RYAN Smith ended a highly successful season by breaking his own discus record by nearly three metres.

Smith (17), who is a pupil at The Sir John Colfox School and was selected by the English Schools this year after another impressive season, was taking part in the Last Ditch Throw Meet at Newquay; the final athletics meet of the year.

Smith threw the discus an astonishing 48.11m which broke his own Dorchester Athletics Club record he won in the summer, and saw him finish the season ranked 7th in the country.

It is an meteoric rise for Smith who only took up the discus seriously three years ago and is grateful to Bridport Leisure Centre for allowing him to train at their facilities.

He said: "They have been incredibly king in showing their support for aspiring young athletes, and I would like to thank Nick Neale for giving me the opportunity to train at the gym.

"Without the use of the BLC I would never have made the progress that I have this year."

Joyce secures replay

SATURDAY 28TH SEPTEMBER
FA Cup, Second Qualifying Round
WEYMOUTH 2
BOGNOR REGIS TOWN 2

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemedia.co.uk

GOALS from Stewart Yetton and Ben Joyce in the last five minutes rescued Weymouth from defeat at the hands of Bognor Regis Town on Saturday, earning a replay and a chance to progress in the FA Cup.

The first half finished goalless despite a number of opportunities from both sides to score.

The second half started in a similar vein but it was Bognor Regis who took the lead on 62 minutes, when the tricky Aaron Hopkinson turned Scott Walker inside the angle of the penalty area before being brought down by the Terras skipper as he turned back across him.

Ben Johnson confidently beat Jason Matthews from the resultant spot kick.

They increased their lead just four minutes later when Doug Tuck won a challenge with Dave Allen, and Hopkinson was released down the left. He turned inside Barry McConnell before curling a superb shot across and beyond Matthews into the far corner of the net.

Weymouth were now hanging on, but retaliated by taking the game to the visitors by introducing Mark Ford and Matt Groves in a four man attack.

Hopkinson turned from hero to villain with five minutes to go when his poor backpass gave Yetton the opportunity to pounce and dispossess keeper Mark Zawadski and roll the ball into an empty net.

Two minutes later Joyce played the ball into Groves and as Ford held off his marker collected the return to thread the ball just inside the post for the equaliser.

Youth racing series comes to Weymouth

■ SAILING HIGH: Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA) was the chosen by the Royal Yachting Association for their RYA Zone and Home Country Championships last weekend.
